

The Bee

THIRTIETH YEAR

EARLINGTON, HOPKINS COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, MAY 22, 1902.

NO. 21

FACTS AND FIGURES

BLUE G. BARD.

A rose for the living is better than a bouquet for the dead.

Prayers are usually thin after being strained through a mortgaged church roof.

The soft touch of a baby's fingers makes a man feel just a little nearer heaven.

Attending the church with the tallest spire does not insure close standing to the throne.

Time spent in bemoaning the failure of yesterday will not insure the success of tomorrow.

If politics is a dirty business it is because so many men think they are too good to engage in it.

The man who carefully looks after the comfort of his family is sure to take good care of his horse.

A great many men who express a willingness to die for the old flag always let their wives carry in the coal.

Atheists and infidels waste time talking to a mother who gazes with tear-wet eyes at a baby's empty shoe.

Some young men are so smart that they discover God is a myth long before they discover what they were created for.

When you hear a girl saying she is going to be an old maid you may expect to see her name hyphenated with another in the local paper before the season ends.

Some men who would not pay a penny for salvation and accepted it only because they were told that it was free, will sooner or later discover that it is only a life lease they hold.

The man who laughs loudest at the sight of a fellow creature trying to lift himself over a fence by his boot straps is usually the fellow who votes the high tariff ticket in the belief that he can tax himself rich.

The fishing party who returned from Rumsey Wednesday report a glorious time barring a few accidents, such as a sprained ankle and several pointers given by fish hooks. One of the fair sex in performing an aerial swoop from one rock to another found the other as slick as the proverbial confidence man and consequently she failed to land as she expected. She now wears a section of an old tow sack in lieu of a slipper.

It takes an expert oarsman to shoot therapiads of Green river near the locks and dams at Rumsey no amateur need try it and expect to come out without losing his head or something else.

There is a squirrel dog owned by Mr. Ballentine near Rumsey but not only does the squirrel, but after it is treed will run to the opposite side of the tree from the hunter, rear upon a bush and shake it vigorously in order to make the squirrel go to the hunters side of the tree. Mr. Ballentine says the dog learned this trick of her own accord and he values her very highly for it.

Quite an unusual event happened last Saturday while the party of Green river were fishing near the locks. Several bass weighing from 6 ounces to a half a pound were caught and put on a fish chain and thrown back in the water, when the next fish had been caught and the chain had been pulled from the water it was found a large spoonbill cat had swallowed one of the bass and hung himself, if anyone doubts this we will gladly show the bill of the fish.

GINNING THEM OUT.

Law Violators Feel the Court's Hand at Madisonville.

In the second week of the Hopkins county circuit court quite an amount of business was disposed of and there is still plenty on hand.

The following are some of the most important cases which were tried before Judge Nunn last week:

The case against Frank Wilky, for rape, was dismissed. There have been several trials of this case.

Major Gamblin was fined $128 for shooting at and wounding Grover Todd. J. V. Stevens was given a fine of $400 for shooting at his brother Sam. Joe Holland was fined $50 for shooting weapons on the highway. Charley Sharp gets one year in the penitentiary for malicious shooting. Lawrence Mitchell goes up for two years and a half for shooting weapons on a train. Coker Moore serves one year for stabbing with intent to kill a railroad foreman.

The case of J. B. Hindle and others, charged with the murder of union miners at Carbonade last fall, was called and continued to next court.

The case of Alonzo Burden, for killing a negro here last Christmas, was dismissed.

FIND COAL

Nortonville, Ky., Soon to Become a Hive of Industry.

The syndicate which, on May 1, bought several thousand acres of land at Nortonville has commenced work on the improvements, which are to be made there by the different corporations and manufacturers. Geologists have examined the ground, and they find that the veins of Nos. 9 and 10 coal are under the whole of the property. This coal however, is of the same grade as that of the Oak Hill coal, and will be a big thing in the eyes of those going there for the purpose of opening up new mines, as the coal now gotten out by the Oak Hill Coal Company is said to be the best coal in this section of the State. The saw mills are increasing their capacity, factories are looking over and examining this property, for the purpose of getting a good location and the Illinois Central and Louisville & Nashville railroads, which cross there, are laying out new switches and extending old ones. Everything seems to point to a big boom in that little town, which has been dormant for something like thirty years.

PUT $100,000 IN BANK.

Washington Begins Work Upon the State Exhibit for the World's Fair—An Appropriation of $100,000 Asked.

World's Fair Grounds, St. Louis, May 17.—The representatives of the Chambers of Commerce of Washington gave an exhibition of true Western spirit when they met in convention at Olympia Friday for action by the state legislature. The convention was in session one day, and when it adjourned there was on deposit in the Capital National Bank of Olympia $100,000 in cash as a guarantee that the Chambers of Commerce of the state would raise that amount to cover the preliminary work. This will permit the work of collecting the state exhibit to begin at once without waiting for the legislature to convene. The convention also recommended that the legislature appropriate $100,000 for the Washington exhibit.

DOWN IN THE MINES.

When we take in consideration the number of oil companies now organized in Kentucky, which now number about fifty, one would be justified in expressing the opinion that our state is destined to lead in the production of oil in the near future. Many oil experts, we are informed, think they have discovered sure signs of oil in paying quantities in our neighboring counties, Webster and Henderson, where test wells have been, and are being sunk, but thus far no one seems to think that Hopkins county is worthy of notice as an oil field and yet an investigation might prove that we are in the center of a great oil field and why not capitalists spend some money here making an examination.

Distressing indeed, it is to hear some of the fellows, once happy and enjoying the luxuries of life now with aching hearts and empty stomach, plead to get back with the St. Bernard and other mining companies of this county. Having naively listened to the solicitation of the U. M. W., who have proved to be their enemies. They have become poverty stricken and full of sorrow. Their cup of woe is brim full and running over and they yearn, to again serve their former employer and friend.

Although down at Providence, the U. M. W. show some outward signs of strength by holding public meetings. Within must be a feeling of deep seated disgust at the manner in which they are being treated by the leaders of the organization, who have nearly suspended the issuance of rations or the distribution of money, this fact being well known by the faithful employees of the Providence Coal Co. They, therefore, fail to see any inducements to leave their happy homes by casting their lot with a gang, who have on more than one occasion attempted to take their lives.

Evidence of deep seated spite work was not wanting by the members of the union during the past two weeks, who endeavored to have innocent men against whom no sworn complaint had been made indicted. They now have a grudge against any one at work, who turns a deaf ear to their pleadings, and they do not hesitate to show same by foul means if necessary.

One "Kit Barnaby" who has gained some notoriety by the indictment standing against him on the charge of conspiracy to murder is now trying to keep the broken lines filled up. A spirit of discontent has been growing and spreading among those who fell victims to false promises and strenuous efforts are now being made by him to keep them partially loyal to the cause, but bread and meat is what they want, and signs of dissolution are beginning to appear.

There can be no doubt but that the bulk of money sent here to support miners in idleness has come from the miners employed in the Anthracite coal regions and therefore with about one hundred and fifty thousand miners out of employment there little aid can be expected while the strike lasts.

Mitchell president of the U. M. W. says the miners in Pennsylvania are prepared financially for a long strike, and yet we don't believe their report showed one million dollars in the treasury, which amounted at fifty cents a day per man would last only about two weeks. No estimate is here made of the large families in many cases to be supported. Then look at their folly, throwing away on an average daily at least two hundred thousand dollars in wages, which laboring men can afford to do.

The rumor is afloat that failing to influence any longer the working people of this county the male members of the U. M. W. now contemplate sending their wives and daughters out on missionary work among the miners of this county. The Gypsies who travel the year round, also send their women folks on begging expeditions.

Women if left to their own cold judgement can be trusted generally speaking can be found on the right side, as was illustrated one day last week when a couple of the employers of a coal company joined the U. M. W. So outraged was the lady above referred to over this action that she told them to the fact that during their illness, or incapacity to work on any account the company always provided for their wants and this in face of the fact that they were there deeply in debt to their employers.

It is estimated that if the organized coal miners in the United States should all come out, over 450,000 would be affected and a loss of at least half a million of dollars in wages per day be the result.

For fear of a libel suit one of the leading labor journals publishes a quasi retraction of a statement made through its columns a few weeks ago attacking the character and standing of Supt. Rutland, of the Empire Coal Company, charging him with theft and scoundrelism.

It is reported that the Louisville & Nashville has purchased 25,000 acres of coal lands in the mountain region near Jellico, where this road and the Southern have been fighting for supremacy.

Hillman Land & Iron Company states that while it is building a railroad to its ore mines, developing coal mines with a view to building coke ovens, etc., at Grand Rivers, it has no intention of building a new town at the old "Center" furnace.

Kentucky Wood Alcohol, Mining & Manufacturing Co. is being organized at 88 Wall street, New York.

Williamsburg.—Jellico Mountain Coal Co., capital stock $25,000, has been incorporated by J. W. Siler, John Morgan and W. F. Grant, for coal mining.

The St. Bernard Mining Company announces that it will pay its employees another labor dividend on June pay day. The regular stock dividend is due July 1 and the labor dividend coming at that time will put the boys in trim for a good 4th of July. This will be the fifth labor dividend paid to employees of that company in the last two and a half years.

The army of U. M. W. in Hopkins county is sorely troubled about the food question. The matter of clothes and shoes was long ago settled, and settled without any clothes or shoes. The national board of the Brotherhood supported the "striker" in the southwest strike by giving them 42 cents per week, and some people were ungenerous enough to say a man could not decently feed and clothe a family on 42 cents a week.

On May 3rd a family of five Hopkins county U. M. W. received as follows for a week's rations: 24 pounds flour, 5 pounds bacon, 3 pounds lard, 3 pounds beans, 1 pound baking powder, 4 pound soap, 1 quart molasses, 24 pounds sugar, 1 pound coffee. This order was O. K. by a distinguished local president. At current prices for the best goods this lot of provisions would cost $2.57, for five people, or less than 52 cents each. This is hardly in keeping with the promises of the officials and organizers two years ago.

As some 140,000 mine workers in Pennsylvania have thrown down their tools, and will have to be helped from the U. M. W. treasury, Hopkins county brothers are much disturbed for fear the general allowance of 52 cents a week will have to be divided up with the Pennsylvania brothers.

It is true that the $225,000 contributed by the members of the U. M. W. for the past 10 months for the use of the members in Hopkins, Christian and Webster counties, was enough to give to each family not less than $25 to $35 per month, but saloons, fancy houses, livery bills, railroad fare, legal services, and all other expenses of officials and organizers could invest in, have reduced the above amount per month down to the 50 cents per week actual support. The officials are well fed and well dressed and many own houses and lands. No shortage of food, clothes or shoes in the homes of Campbell, Wood, Barnaby and a host of other officials and organizers.

Ben Kissinger, indicted as an accessory to the murder of Morton Buck, at Providence, is hiding out, waiting to see what is done to Wood and Barnaby by the Dixon Circuit Court. Ben is reported as saying the U. M. W. has treated him shamefully and that if they don't do better he will send some of them to the penitentiary. Nobody doubts that Ben can tell of what was done at the camp at Madisonville and Nortonville. Even the truth is becoming known of the happenings about Boxtown—how bridges were burned, coal tipples and houses shot into and other unlawful acts committed. The old saying "when thieves fall out honest folks get the dues," is daily being manifested in U. M. W. circles in Hopkins county.

INDICTED THE WHOLE PUSH.

Grand Jury Returns Indictments Against Every Physician in Hopkins County.

Every physician in Hopkins county was indicted at the last sitting of the grand jury. The law now requires the physicians to file a registry of all the births and deaths occurring under their professional ministrations, and it appears that the doctors were either ignorant of the existence of the law or else considered it as a matter of such small concern as to neglect it. As a result of this oversight or whatever it may be, thirty-seven physicians of Hopkins county will have to dance to the music. The indictments read as follows: "For failing to file a registry of all births and deaths at which they have professionally attended within one year ending December 31, 1901, or on or before January 10, 1902."

The penalty is a fine of from $5 to $25.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

Mr. H. C. Trigg, the banker, has bought the Glasgow railroad, a branch of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, ten miles long, from Glasgow to Glasgow Junction, for $100,000 cash. It is understood that several Louisville capitalists will be associated with Mr. Trigg in the new management.

Train Master W. F. Sheridan has been off with the circus train and reports a pleasant trip.

Conductor Jas. Sparrow visited friends in Madisonville Monday. Jimmie drew a spanking team and cut quite a swell in the county seat.

Dispatcher John Devney and Operator Elliott made the usual Sunday trips to Evansville and Mortons Gap Sunday.

There will be a special train run from Madisonville to Hopkinsville during the Elks' Carnival, leaving Madisonville at 7:30 and Hopkinsville at 10:30. Quite a large number have expressed their intention of going.

The L. & N. and I. C. have determined to make great improvements at Nortonville and have already begun laying track there.

Conductor Moody, of the Providence train, left a preacher at Providence a few days since who wanted to go to Madisonville with him. The next trip the minister went over with him and explained the reason he did not catch the train the day before the closing prayer was so long. Moody said: "Well, sir, you could have prayed on my train as well as in a church."

James Hourland, formerly operator on this division and later from Jellico, has been visiting relatives in Madisonville this week. He leaves for the West soon to secure a position on a Western road.

Engineer Will Rowe says the Bee is the best county paper published in the State and every Henderson division man should take it and read it.

Conductor Frank Sweeney told us a good joke on a conductor, but we are rather afraid to publish it. It is too good to keep, however, and will no doubt soon be known from one end of the road to the other.

Dispatchers Willie Griffin and Eddie Brownlie have the reputation of being the best tempered dispatchers on the division.

Some of the railroad boys are dropping in every day and subscribing for the Bee. They know a good thing when they see it.

It has been customary for the railroad boys to use the expression "rubberneck." This is now superseded by the word "peninsula," because a peninsula stretches out to sea.

We are sincerely sorry that Brakemen Huff and Story were so unfortunate as to lose out over the Springfield trouble, but such is railroad life and they will no doubt secure positions elsewhere.

We hear rumors on top of rumors of the marriage of three Henderson Division boys in the next few weeks but we cannot get any information out of the parties themselves consequently we will not call any names.

The L. & N. won the Clear Fork Valley case over the Southern and began laying the track Monday. The L. & N. was given everything in the contest district, but the Calvin Teague tract.

Is a Tumbler.

Earlington has an expert tumbler. On last Sunday morning Walter N. Martin, one of the Bee's lightning typists, started to Madisonville on his bicycle. There was a good breeze and everything was promising for a pleasant trip. The wheel ran easy and he passed on a slight rapid gait until he reached the big hill, just outside of town. It is very steep and dangerous. He was unable to dismount and while he was on the short turn in his wheel took a new start in a new direction than he intended, leaving him several feet from the roadside in the woods. After the accident he was lucky enough to find a flat that was left, but it was in a bad condition. We are very glad to say there was no house broken and that he was able, with the aid of time to be at his post of duty in the Bee office the next morning.

ON WHO SAW.

Oklahoma Will Be Heard From.
World's Fair Grounds, St. Louis, May 17.—The Oklahoma World's Fair Commission will ask the legislature which meets in January, 1908, to appropriate $20,000 more for preparing Oklahoma's exhibit for the World's Fair of 1904. This will give Oklahoma $50,000 to put up her building and make an exhibit of her resources. A novel feature of the Oklahoma exhibit will be the boxes used at El Reno and Lawton when the government land lottery was held for the purpose of opening to settlement the Comanche, Kiowa and Wichita Indian reservations in 1901.

If every woman could have what she wished in the way of dress, the churches would have to increase their seating capacity.

Caution.
This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1808 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe Coughs, Bronchitis, etc., especially for Consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the day and night, there is nothing like German Syrup. Sold by all druggists in the civilized world.

Whooping Cough.
A woman who has had experience with this disease, tells how to prevent it. She says: "Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their lungs, and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops."

James J. Hayes, Springfield, Ill. This remedy is for sale by St. Bernard Drug Store, Earlington; Ben T. Robinson, Mortons Gap; Geo. King, St. Charles.

Although ordinary wood alcohol is a poison, Ohio is the only State which prohibits its sale on that account.

At Na Time is Man Secure From Attacks of such disorders of the stomach as cholera, morbus, and diarrhoea; but these complaints are common during the "heat" term, when it is dangerous to neglect them. Panikoller is a remedy that has never failed and the severest attacks have been cured by it. A good substitute, there is but one Panikoller. Perry Davis' 35c and 60c.

Put your shoulder to fortune's wheel and turn it to suit yourself.

Steer clear of the man whom dogs and children dislike.

Is Get Caching
as to popular report it seems to be. A noticeable increase in sales of Panikoller comes from golf districts. The reason for this is clear, as Perry Davis' Panikoller is the oldest and best remedy extant for sprains, strains, bruises and soreness, all of which are of common occurrence, either in vigorous play or through accident. Ever since the standard of treatment and balm.

It's always advisable for a poor liar to tell the truth.

We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's Anodyne Flower for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Live Troubles that has not been cured—and we also mean their results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual costiveness, nervous dyspepsia, headaches, dependent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact, any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried Anodyne Flower, try one bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with you. Ask your oldest druggist.

ANOTHER SAID CALAMITY.

Death-Dealing Explosion in the Fraterville Coal Mine at Coal Creek, Tenn.

225 MEN AND BOYS LOSE THEIR LIVES.

Prompt, But Unavailing Efforts to Rescue the Entombed Men—When Entrance Was Effected Through an Adjacent Mine It Was Found That Every One Had Perished.

Coal Creek, Tenn., May 20.—The worst disaster in the history of Tennessee mining occurred at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning, when between 175 and 225 men and boys met instant death at the Fraterville coal mine, located two miles west of this town. A gas explosion was the cause of the disaster.

One of the large number of men and boys who went to work yesterday morning, only one is alive, and he is so badly injured that he can not live. This man is William Morgan, an aged Englishman, who was a road man in the mine. He was blown out of the entrance by the force of the explosion.

One hundred and seventy-five miners were checked in for work yesterday morning by the mine boss. In addition to these there were men who acted as helpers and drivers and roadmen, and others to the number of perhaps fifty.

The Fraterville mine is the oldest mine in the Coal Creek district, having been opened in 1870. It is fully three miles from the opening of the mine to the point where the men were at work. They had not been at work long before the terrible explosion occurred. There was a fearful roar and then flames shot from the entrance and the air shafts.

As soon as order could be brought out of chaos, two rescuing parties were started in, one by way of the entrance, the other through Thistle mine, which adjoins and in which no men were at work. The Thistle party was unable to make any headway as the gas stifled the workers.

The Fraterville party went fully two miles under the earth until a heavy fall of slate was encountered. At this barrier men worked like demons, hoping against hope, that those beyond might be safe.

The news of the disaster spread quickly, and the scenes at the mouth of the mine, while the workers were within were beyond description. Business was suspended in the town, and all its mines as soon as the news became known, and men and children gathered around the Fraterville entrance. Women were in the hands and some were within were with grief.

All day long the rescuers toiled at the mine entrance, but they were unable to force an entrance through it. Up to that hour only five dead bodies had been recovered, and hope was held high that many living were safe. The hopes of the living were doomed, however, for when once the rescuers could enter and proceeded the walked along one continuous tomb of death. There was not a sign of life. Every man had perished.

Night dead bodies were first recovered, and there were sent to Coal Creek. Twenty-six were soon found. They were not disfigured beyond identification, and each corpse as it was borne from the mouth of the great tomb was surrounded by eager crowds of relatives of the men who had been stricken down. The mine was not on fire, except in remote portions, and all bodies will, perhaps, be reached and recovered.

The Fraterville mine is owned by the Coal Creek Coal Co., of which Maj. P. C. Camp is president. He was in Cincinnati, but hurried to the scene of the disaster.

In 1901, after inspecting Fraterville mine, State Commissioner of Labor R. A. Shiffert reported that the ventilation was not up to requirements; that the furnace was inadequate to ventilate the mine, and that the airways were choked in places.

Washington, May 18.—Secretary Hay has received a cable from the U. S. PLOT AGAINST KING ALFONSO.

Timely Discovery and Arrest of Several of the Conspirators—Dynamite Bombs Seized.

Madrid, May 19.—An anarchist plot against King Alfonso has been discovered, and six arrests, including that of Gabriel Lopez, an employee of an insurance company, have been made. Dynamite cartridges were found on the premises where Lopez was arrested. Lopez says he received a package of cartridges from another anarchist with instructions to throw them at the moment of the passage of the royal carriage in Saturday's procession.

The discovery of the plot against the king is confirmed by the newspapers here. It is now said that nine dynamite cartridges were seized. Further arrests have been made, and the prisoners include six medical students, a printer, a carpenter and a mason.

The captured cartridges are being analyzed by the military authorities.

THE HOG RUN COLLAPSED.

Several Persons Killed and Injured While Watching a Fight Between Two Stock Yards.

Chicago, May 17.—The last refinery of Armour & Co., situated at the corner of Forty-third and Center streets, was destroyed by fire last night, and during the fire a number of accidents occurred by which many persons were injured. The number of dead and wounded is not yet known.

The fire drew a great crowd to the stock yards, and it is estimated that at least ten thousand spectators were gathered around the burning building. Several streets traverse the yards, at a height of 20 feet from the ground, and upon these points of vantage the people gathered. One of the viaducts runs near the refinery, and from the north side of this viaduct a hog-run 300 feet long extends to the plant of Armour & Co. While this was densely crowded with people about two hundred feet of it gave way, precipitating all who stood upon it to the ground.

The firemen instantly abandoned all efforts to save the refinery, which was already doomed, and devoted themselves to the work of rescue. The Emperor William's Gift.

Site Decided Upon for the Monument—No Action by Congress Necessary.

Washington, May 17.—At the cabinet meeting yesterday the offer of Emperor William of Germany to the United States a statue of Frederick the Great, in commemoration of the visit of Prince Henry to this country, was discussed at some length. President Roosevelt has decided upon a site for the statue.

The president concluded that no action by congress was necessary, and that as Frederick was a great commander it would be most appropriate to place the statue adjacent to the new war college to be established in Washington. This college is to be erected in the arched grounds.

Considerable Damage Done at Beville and Austin Tells the Effects of the High Winds—Several Camping Parties Suffered the Loss of Their Camping Outfits by Wind.

Houston, Tex., May 19.—Reports received here by telegraph and telephone indicate that the northern or western portion of the town of Goliad has been swept away by a tornado and that from fifty to one hundred people have been killed.

The long distance operator at Houston was in connection with Goliad at seven o'clock, but beyond that fact that part of the town had been blown away and that many persons had been killed and injured, no other particulars were obtained.

Considerable damage has also been done at Beville by high winds. Both towns are close to the Gulf coast, and telegraph wires are down.

DAMAGED BY A CLOUDBURST.

Wash-Out on Railroad—Derailed of Vegetation.

St. Joseph, Mo., May 19.—The Chicago Great Western railway was a severe sufferer from a cloudburst last night, both on the Des Moines and the Chicago divisions. More than one hundred and fifty feet of track and grading were destroyed at Fairbanks, seven miles east of Des Moines, and about two-thirds of the bridge was wiped out east of Osceola on the Chicago division.

The train schedule was abandoned, yesterday, and it is expected though trains will not be run from either Chicago or St. Paul before tonight or Tuesday.

In this city a number of houses were wrecked and the state institution for the blind was considerably damaged, though none of the inmates was injured.

No serious damage has been heard of so far. A cloudburst is reported in Klamath county, but reports at the headquarters do not indicate important damage or loss of life.

Worst Wind Storm of the Season.

Fairfield, Neb., May 19.—The worst windstorm of the season visited Fairfield at six o'clock yesterday, sweeping the St. Joseph & Grand Island roundhouse and blowing to pieces the residence of Mr. Benedict. SGROFULA AND ITS AWFUL HORRORS

CURED BY—

Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

A MOST WONDERFUL CURE.

A Grand Old Lady Gives Her Experience.

Mrs. Thakral Gilla Hind lives in the beautiful village of Brighton, Livingston Co., Mich. This venerable and highly respected lady was born in the year 1812, the year of the great war, in Hebron, Washington Co., New York. She came to Michigan in 1850, the year of "Michigan and Tyler too." All her faculties are excellently preserved, and possessing a very retentive memory, her mind is full of interesting reminiscences of her early life. She has many of the early days of the State of Michigan, and the remarkable people she has met, and the stirring events of which she was a witness. But nothing in her varied and manifold recollections are more marvelous and worthy of attention than are her experiences in the use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. Mrs. Hind inherited a tendency and predisposition to scrofula, that terribly destructive blood taint which has cured and curing the lives of thousands and marking thousands more as victims of the death angel. Transmitted from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family in one form or another. It may make its appearance in dreadful and running sores, in unsightly swellings in the neck or joints, or in eruptions of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane, it may be known as catarrh in the head, or developing in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of consumption.

Speaking of her case, Mrs. Hind says: "I was troubled for many years with a bad skin disease. My arms and limbs would break out in a mass of sores, discharging yellow matter. My neck began to swell and became very unsightly in appearance. My body was covered with scrofulous eruptions. My eyes were also greatly inflamed and they pained me very much. My blood was in a very bad condition and my head ached severely at frequent intervals, and I had no appetite. I had sores also in my ears. I was in a miserable condition, and I had every remedy that had been recommended, and doctor after doctor had failed. One of the best physicians in the state told me I must die of scrofulous consumption, as internal abscesses began to form. I at length was told of Dr. Johnston, of Detroit, and his famous Sarsaparilla. I tried a bottle, more as an experiment than anything else, as I had no faith in it, and greatly to my agreeable surprise, I began to grow better. You can be sure I kept on taking it. I took a great many bottles. But I steadily improved until I became entirely well. All the sores healed up, all the bad symptoms disappeared. I gained perfect health, and I have never been troubled with scrofula since. Of course an old lady of 83 years is not a young woman, but I have had remarkably good health since then, and I firmly believe that JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA is the greatest blood purifier and the best medicine in the wide world, both for scrofula and as a spring medicine." This remarkably interesting old lady did not look to be more than sixty, and she repeated several times, "I believe my life was saved by JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA."

FATED MARTINIQUE.

SCENE OF THE RECENT VOLCANIC DISASTER.

St. Pierre, the Modern Pompeii, Was Called the Paris of the West—Characteristics of the Island and Its Inhabitants.

The island of Martinique, where the recent disastrous volcanic disturbance took place, with its island of Guadeloupe, is one of the French possessions in the West Indies. Martinique is 50 miles southeast of Port-au-Prince, the greatest length is forty-three miles and the mean width fifteen miles. A cluster of volcanic mountains in the north, a similar group in the south and a line of lower hills between them form the backbone of the island, which culminates in Mont Pelee, which rises 4,500 feet above the level of the sea.

The volcanic origin of Martinique is unmistakable. It abounds in warm and hot springs, and there are six craters of volcanoes to be found in different parts of the island, most of them extinct. Mont Pelee, however, has occasionally been active, an eruption occurring in 1821, and its outbursts have always been a source of terror to the inhabitants.

St. Pierre, which was practically obliterated during the recent eruption of Mont Pelee, was the principle city of the island of Martinique and the largest settlement in the French West Indies. Fort-de-France, the capital of the colony, is ten miles south of St. Pierre and has a population of about 15,000. In 1820 this city was destroyed by an earthquake, but subsequently rebuilt.

The city of St. Pierre had a population of 25,000 in 1880. The population of the island of Martinique was 100,000 in 1880. The city of St. Pierre was situated on the northwest coast of the island, but a few miles from the volcano. Lying on the shores of the Caribbean sea, the town was divided into two parts by a rivulet, over which were built several handsome bridges. Numerous public buildings, schools, a handsome theater and many beautiful residences made it the Paris of the French West Indies.

The volume of business done was in sugar, coffee, tobacco and cotton, the products of the island of Martinique, which covers an area of 380 square miles. On the whole island, and especially in St. Pierre, the population is dense, composed largely of negroes and mulattoes. Instead of the old Caribbean race Martinique possesses a population that is varied in color, and a mingling of races is found there such as is met in no other part of the West Indies.

Quaint customs prevailed in the now vanished city. When a child was lost, the town crier went abroad ringing a bell and calling attention to the fact. When the streets became dirty, he rang his bell and cried, "Arrosez" (sprinkle the streets), a command that if neglected involved a fine. The dust of Pelee now lies deep on the ruined town, but the voice of the bellman is silent. Few are left of its once busy thousands.

St. Pierre was well paved, picturesque and beautiful. It had always been lively and commercially active. It had a wonderful supply of good water. Coming from the mountains, the water ran down the streets in miniature rivers—sometimes in an open gutter in the middle of the street, sometimes in a smaller gutter on each side. This open water was entirely for cooling and cleansing purposes. The dirty water ran in pipes, and at short intervals in the streets were drinking fountains.

The botanical garden is St. Pierre pronounced one of the most beautiful in the world. Close to the garden were the old dwelling grounds, where hundreds of the French race were killed by those who fell on the "field of honor."

It was in Martinique that Josephine, empress of the French, was born, and the people are very proud of that fact. When Josephine was poor and separated from her husband, Napoleon Bonaparte, she returned to Martinique and spent several years there. The people of St. Pierre, where she lived, erected a beautiful monument to her memory.

Last year Martinique was visited by a terrible hurricane which wrought destruction throughout the West Indies, and several hundred persons were killed. Several times during the last century it has suffered from earthquakes and volcanic eruptions, but this last awful catastrophe surpassed parallel in the world's history.

IMPRESSIONS.

The touch of his hand, the glance of an eye,
Or a word exchanged with a passer-by;
A glimpse of a face in a crowded street,
And afterward life is incomplete.
An angered word from our lips is sped,
Or a tender word is left unsaid,
And one there is who, his whole life long,
Shall cherish the brand of a burning wrong.

The liquor men do not know what they are about, if they are to begin a campaign of education against Prohibition or temperance principles. The role for them is to lie low and saw wood. They will profit little by having the light turned on.—Indianapolis News.

How many of our Woman's Christian Temperance Union members know that the first women's temperance convention on record was one held by Iroquois women, who assembled in council on the 23rd of May, 1802, and called the chiefs thereto, telling them that when they appeared that they had already protested to them against the many misfortunes caused by the use of spirituous liquors; that the chiefs had not answered; and that the women now assembled in greater numbers, "request that you will use your endeavors and have it removed from the neighborhood of our people, that there be no more sold higher to us than the mountain." The chiefs retired for consultation, and Sachem Brant brought in their reply, in which the chiefs admitted the justice of the women's request, promised to use their endeavors to bring about the women's desire; but added that "it depends in a great measure upon Government, as the distance you propose is within their line." "We cannot, therefore, promise that your request will be complied with." Poor women! if they had had only their own race to contend with their people would then have been freed from the curse of the fire-water.

Statistics show that for every missionary that goes to Africa, 75,000,000 gallons of liquor are sent to that continent. A fearful responsibility is certainly resting somewhere or such a monstrous thing could not be true. Who are the ones to blame? The answer will not do credit to many professing Christians who stand high in official positions in this so-called Christian nation. How long shall this continue? is a question that should be considered by every citizen who loves his country.

At the third hearing of Warren J. Coffin, arrested for selling liquor without a license in the House wing of the Capitol at Washington, the defendant moved to quash "information" on the ground of lack of jurisdiction of the court.

As there was not sufficient time at the command of the court to hear the arguments, the case was set for Monday, May 10, when the Congressional rum-seller was again to appear in the police court. His partner, Mr. Page, was still detained by that urgent business in Georgia.

Worth of Record.

On the evening of the 10th inst., Mrs. Virginia Franceway, district president, and Miss Ruth Plain, local president, organized a W. C. T. U. among the colored people in Madisonville, with 17 active members and three honorary members.

The officers are Mrs. Selectman, wife of the Presiding Elder, President; Mrs. Rose Jackson, Vice-President; Miss Minnie Gray, Recording Secretary; Miss Minnie McNary, Corresponding Secretary, and Mrs. Patsy Noel, Treasurer. The honorary members are the Rev. Selectman, Rev. Andrew Jackson and Mrs. Joseph Kinnely.

This is certainly work in the right direction. We are a strong believer in foreign missions, but we believe in home missions as well, and we know of no field where there is greater need of work. Who can estimate the influence for good that may result from this little beginning? Certainly, if this land is ever to be redeemed from the curse of the saloon, and we believe it is, it will require the united efforts of all people, irrespective of sex or color.

A reply to the statement of Leonard B. Shouse, President of the Kentucky Liquor Dealers' Association, in which he said: "It will not allow past political affiliations to govern us. We will support only men who are friendly to our interests. We have borne the burden long enough, and we propose to strike back." We will control more than 3,000,000 votes. We hold the balance of power and we will win."

No doubt Mr. Shouse, President of the Kentucky Liquor Dealers' Association, tells the truth when he says, "we propose to strike back." The Liquor Dealers' Association will strike back at every preacher who warns the people against their poison. They will strike back at every school that teaches its pupils the evil effects of strong drink. They will strike back at every father who casts his vote to save his sons from drunkenness. They will strike back at every woman who, with tears and prayers, protests against the ruin of her children by the saloon. They will strike back at every society organized for the protection of the rising generation from the destruction of the whiskey traffic. They will strike back at Heaven.

Mr. Shouse says: "We have borne the burden long enough." What burden? The burden of gold of which they have robbed the people, and the burden of the blood of the people they have murdered. The burden of indignant humanity, and the burden of a holy God's just wrath. The Liquor Dealers' Association will still have to bear their burden of reproach and shame and guilt. There is no way for them to shift it. It is a mountain of guilt which will rest on them through life and sink them into eternal hell.

Mr. Shouse says that the whiskey people will control more than 3,000,000 votes, and that they will not affiliate with their past political parties. Of course not. Why should they? Their thought, desire, ambition and patriotism begin and end around the steuch and rottenness of their murder-pens, the still-house and the bar-room.

Mr. Shouse says they will win. Win what, we should like to know? Is it possible they are going to try to win more than they have already won? It is to be a secret organization. Perhaps they propose to undertake to get Congress to pass an act to turn over to the Liquor Dealers' Association, the bodies of all men whose lives have been destroyed by whiskey made and sold by this Association. They have already emptied the drunkard's pockets of money, emptied his home of furniture and peace, his heart of hope, and his head of reason; last of all, they have emptied his bloated body of life, but still they are not satisfied—they are going to form a political party, they want more legislation—they must want the drunkard's dead body. They have everything else.

We congratulate the God-fearing people of the world on this stir among the whiskey dealers. Their craft is in danger. Let them meet and plan and organize and swagger and boast of what they will do. Silence and darkness are Satan's choice, time and opportunity, but agitation, light and action mean his overthrow.

There cannot be too much agitation on the subject of the whiskey traffic. Let there be agitation in every State, county, church, school and home, until men will rise up and smite down this cruel monster, the whiskey traffic.—H. C. Morrison, in the Pentecostal Herald.

WILL BE A CANDIDATE

Judge Dempsey Wants to Succeed Himself as Railroad Commissioner.

At the solicitation of many friends both at home and abroad, Judge J. Fletcher Dempsey announced that he would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Railroad Commissioner in the first district. Judge Dempsey is now serving his second term as Railroad Commissioner. Mr. Webb Bell, of Hopkinsville, announced his candidacy for Railroad Commissioner some three months ago.

Public School Entertainment.

Friday closed a very successful term of the Public School. The closing exercises were held in the school building which had been very beautifully decorated for the occasion.

As the Bee representative was not present we cannot give a detailed account of the program. From the door receipts and sale of flowers, bundles and lemonade quite a neat little sum was realized for the school fund.

COMPLIMENTED THE ST. BERNARD COAL CO.

And Advised the Miners to Shun the Baneful Influence of the U. M. W., and Let Well Enough Alone.

Evangelist W. D. Cox, who has been holding a series of well attended meetings at this place, on last Sunday night preached a sermon for the miners. Among some of the good things he said were the following: "I have lived in Central City, and know where I speak. The miners here are better paid, better fed, and better in all respects than those who belong to the U. M. W."

There are few, if any, union miners in or around Central City who own their homes. You who are living here and have all the necessities and some of the luxuries of life have no conception of the squalid misery and want that exists in the ranks of the U. M. W., and I want to advise you as a true friend to remain as you are, free and independent, with the right to work for whom you please, and when you please."

Mr. Cox also paid a high tribute to the president, John B. Atkinson, and his treatment of employees.

A NEW REPUBLIC IS BORN.

The United States Gives the Nations of the World an Object Lesson in Good Faith.

HAS DONE MORE THAN SHE PROMISED.

Cuba Turned Over To the Cubans Free From Debt and Contagious Diseases. With Free Schools Detaching the Island—A Gain Day in the City of Havana.

Havana, May 21.—The natal day of the Republic of Cuba found Havana arrayed like a queen to await the coming of her lord. She seemed festive for the occasion with the dignity of the prosperous days of her power and wealth.

The early morning was cool and delightful, and the entire population, reinforced by thousands of visitors, was abroad soon after daylight. All was animation and expectancy. The streets were swarming with people and were filled with a ceaseless din. The babble of voices was drowned by the sharp cries of drivers and the clatter of wailing bells. As the coaches drove their carriages madly over the stony pavements pedestrians to the place were choked into a solid mass of humanity and every door and window fronting the square was walled in with faces, white and black, old and young, male and female. Then crowds sought the roofs, overflowing every building that commanded a view of the flagstaff on the palace. As far as the eye could see, the roof lines were fringed with human faces, and there was a sight to live forever in memory.

Drawn up below, in the open space of the plaza were eight dismounted troops of the Seventh cavalry with sabres at their heels. Their horses were already on board the steamer which was to take them back to the United States.

Shortly before 11:20 those who were to witness the ceremony began to arrive in carriages through a street kept clear by the police. All the naval officers were arrayed in full uniform, brilliant in gold and plumed chapans. The Cubans generally wore black frock suits, white waistcoats and silk hats. They were all looking at the Cuban flag, as an act of the United States ceremony.

The ceremony itself was brief and simple. After formal greetings Gen. Woods read the documentary transfer prepared by the war department regarding the new government to immediately proclaim the constitution and the Platt amendment contained in the appendix, and to undertake the obligations assumed by the United States with respect to Cuba by the treaty of Paris.

PRESIDENT PALMA SIGNED. Then Gen. Wood lowered 916 Grey and Red and the Cuban flag.

Havana, May 21.—Senor Palma attached his signature to a document as president of the Cuban republic, after an exchange of congratulations, and the seven Gen. Gomez ascended to the roof of the palace, where he was accorded a great reception. Gen. Wood personally invited the American officers, who were seated with his own hands hoisted the Cuban flag, as an act of the United States, Gomez assisting.

Then They Sailed Away. Havana, May 21.—Gen. Wood and his staff and the American troops embarked immediately after the hoisting of the Cuban flag, and the American ships steamed out of the harbor.

A Like Program at Santiago. Havana, May 21.—At the time the transfer of place in Havana, Gen. Whitelaw, Santiago, turned over his authority to his Cuban successor, and sailed away with the American cavalry which had been in garrison there.

May Enter Oakland, Cal. Oakland, Cal., May 21.—The "Santa Fe" regular service has been granted franchise to enter this city. It is to run for 30 years. The company must build the road through the city within two years.
